

WILSON BARS BREAK WITH MEXICO

Settling Of Strike Won't End Coal Shortage

NOTE MAY AVERT OCCUPATION

PLANTS TO BE SILENT TILL BINS FILLED

Wage Scale Officials Will Vote Tomorrow on 14 Per Cent Raise

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The coal shortage will continue acute until January 1, even if mine union wage scale officials in Indianapolis tomorrow vote to accept the settlement proposed by President Wilson, it was predicted here today.

Railroad administration officials in charge of coal priorities are making plans based on this belief. Curtailment of train service will be continued several weeks, it is expected, and may be increased. This would permit additional coal hauling facilities.

Meanwhile many plants and factories must remain closed until their bins can be replenished. Part time operation of stores will be continued probably until after the beginning of the new year. Although there was no official explanation here today of details of President Wilson's proposal which has been accepted by President Lewis of the miners, it is said, the plan includes no increase in the 14 per cent settlement proposed by Fuel Administrator Garfield.

To Prevent Recurrence. The importance of the plan, it is assumed, lies in the suggestion for a commission to study the situation and work to prevent its recurrence. The miners thus would be assured of wage readjustments with every change of the general economic situation.

It is the commission plan which is understood to have influenced Lewis to decide to urge acceptance of the president's offer. Lewis and Secretary Green assured Attorney General Palmer they would lay the offer before the union wage scale committee with a favorable recommendation. Lewis gave Palmer this assurance Saturday at midnight following a secret meeting with the attorney general. Palmer and his assistant, C. B. Ames, left here late yesterday for Indianapolis on the same train that carried Lewis and Green.

In a statement issued at the White House today, the settlement of the coal strike was held out. The statement said: "It is hoped that there will be a settlement on Tuesday afternoon of the controversy between the miners, the operators and the government through acceptance by the miners of a plan for a definite settlement proposed by the president, which proposal was submitted to acting President Lewis of the miners by Attorney General Palmer Saturday night."

White House officials refused to give out the definite terms of the president's proposal.

Rumors of a conflict between Palmer and Fuel Administrator Garfield were declared baseless. The position of the White House officials was that the matter was in the hands of President Wilson and that both the attorney general and the fuel administration were acting under his orders.

Conservation Is Continued In District About Chicago

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Coal conservation was continued today, despite indications that the strike of miners was near the end.

The railroads followed out arrangements and cut passenger train schedules between Chicago and the Pacific coast by one third.

United States Navy Ready To Hit Hard, Says Daniels

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—"The United States navy is ready to hit and hit hard," Secretary Daniels declared in his annual report. The United States navy emerged from the war incomparably stronger and more powerful condition than ever before—second only to that of Great Britain, and far in advance of any other foreign navy, in ships, in men and every element of strength," Daniels said.

"With battleships in service equal to or superior to any in commission, six huge battle cruisers and twelve battleships under construction, a number of them larger than any now in commission, to be armed with 16 inch guns, more powerful than any now afloat, the navy is pressing forward to greater things."

One hundred and ninety six inch guns are to be manufactured for the navy, Daniels' report stated. Ordnance officers have estimated their combined discharge would produce enough energy to lift a battleship as high as the Washington monument, it was said.

TRUNK MYSTERY IS CLOUDED BY STORY OF GIRL'S MOTHER

YREKA, Cal., Dec. 8.—Unexplained features of the Lawton, Mich., trunk mystery, served to cloud today the detailed statement made by Mrs. Sarah Tabor, in which she declared her daughter, Maud, died in her arms three years ago. Maud's body was found in the trunk.

Mrs. Tabor said she did not know the body had been embalmed. She did not explain how she placed the body in the trunk unassisted, although she intimated she had done so. She said her son Walter, Joseph Virgo and Florence Critchlow were not present when Maud died.

Maud was addicted to the use of chloroform and died from an overdose, according to Mrs. Tabor. The two had agreed to preserve the body of the one dying first until the bodies of both could be buried together, according to Mrs. Tabor's statement.

Mrs. Tabor did not explain how this pact could have been fulfilled. She had told no one of it, she said. It was pointed out that if she herself had died on her extended western trip before the trunk was discovered she would have been buried without any reference to the alleged "death pact."

Mrs. Tabor and Walter are being held for the arrival of Michigan officials.

Michigan Officials Will Question Mrs. Sarah Tabor

LAWTON, Mich., Dec. 8.—Officials investigating the mysterious death of Maud Tabor were en route to California today to question the mother of the girl whose body was found in the basement of the Tabor home here, where it had been hidden for three years.

Mrs. Sarah Tabor was held by police at Yreka, Cal., where she was arrested with her son, Walter. Prosecutor Adams and Sheriff Barker expected to obtain details of the death of Maud from Mrs. Tabor and her son which would clear up the mystery.

GALES DRIVE VESSEL FAR FROM ITS COURSE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8.—A succession of gales from various quarters drove the power schooner Ruby nearly a thousand miles out of its course and it put in here today, twenty-four days out from Bristol Bay, Alaska, instead of reaching Seattle, its original destination.

Four hundred miles off Unimak, Captain Lloyd reported the foremost Ruby snapped in a storm. The Ruby brought four hundred cases of salmon from Alaska canneries.

EXPECT APPLICATIONS TO RAISE CAR FARES

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8.—Applications for authority to increase fares were forecast today following the state railroad commission's recognition, in its annual report filed with Governor Stephens, of the necessity of measures for financial relief for electric railways.

The report states unsettled conditions in the electrical traction service field present problems that are daily becoming more pressing, and that measures for possible financial relief and improvement in service are among the most important questions to be solved.

THOUSAND TROOPS ORDERED TO QUELL RIOT OF STUDENTS

CANTON, China, Dec. 8.—Two thousand troops and machine guns were sent out by the government and gunboats were held ready on the river before the government arrested eleven alleged ringleaders in a riot of students here.

Students had raided the Sincere Company's stores, asserting that employees of the stores had struck students.

"Boycott these stores," the students cried. They captured Sincere employees and placarded them with the line: "These men struck students."

One hundred police were first sent to quell the students, but met with slight success. The police command to cease rioting went unheeded. A student was bayoneted. Students then rushed the police and disarmed some of them. The students retained control of one store for 24 hours.

Undaunted by the show of force by the government, the students announced they will sue the Sincere company because its employees struck students and will also sue the police for interfering.

BULLETINS

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Thirty-one cars oranges and four cars lemons sold. Orange market 25 to 40 cents higher. Averages $2.67 to $3.38. Highest price, 28 boxes Alphabetical, $8.60. Lemons 10 to 15 cents higher. Averages $1.04 to $3.26. Weather rainy. 8 a. m. temperature 40.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The supreme court today failed to hand down its decision on the constitutionality of war time prohibition. The decision may be announced next Monday.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Dec. 8.—A plea of not guilty was entered for U. S. Senator Newberry when he was arraigned in federal court late today on election fraud charges. Thirteen others prominent in the 1918 campaigns when Newberry was elected to the senate over Henry Ford were arraigned with the senator but declining to plead. Bail in each case was fixed at $10,000.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—"I have read Mr. Siebold's article in the New York World and for obvious reasons I prefer to make no comment further than to say that my admiration and affection for the president are unchanged," Col. House declared today in commenting on an article to the effect that he is no longer in favor with President Wilson.

PASADENA, Dec. 8.—Despite adverse reports from Cambridge, pressure today was being brought to bear at Washington through the directors of the Tournament of Roses to obtain consent of the fuel administration for the Harvard football team to travel across the country for the New Year's game. Governor Stephens has volunteered assistance in the matter and a telegram from the national capitol is awaited.

SHIPPING BY EXPRESS IS BREAKING RECORDS

WITH shipments through the American Express Co. higher than ever before in the history of the city, with October and November totals far greater than December, the biggest month of last year, Santa Ana's contributions to Christmas cheer in eastern homes will this year be greater than ever before.

"December is going to be the biggest month the company has ever had," said J. T. Carter, Santa Ana agent for the express company. "I don't even venture to guess what the total will be. We are fairly swamped with out-going business."

Figures on Carter's books show that the business for the month of October this year was one third greater than was the business for December last year, and November this year had December of last year distanced by fifty per cent.

Orange County products are fairly pouring into the express office, as they were never poured before. Ninety per cent of the out going business is on Orange county walnuts, oranges, lemons and dried fruits.

"We are shipping this year ten times as many walnuts as we shipped last year," said Carter.

Filling Eastern Orders. Much of the business comes from local packing houses that are filling eastern orders. During the last of November and the first of this month a great deal has been Christmas business, nuts and fruits being sent by Santa Anans to friends and relatives in the east.

In order to prevent loss of articles that are being shipped, the company has recently issued rules against the acceptance of any article for shipment that is not securely wrapped or boxed.

Here in Santa Ana the rules for the shipment of walnuts is that they must be doubly sacked. The slight hole in a walnut sack means probably that that sack will have far less walnuts in it by the time it reaches its destination than it had when it left here. In transportation that hole is almost sure to enlarge. The safe rule adopted by the express office is that the walnuts should be doubly sacked. Walnuts, of course, can be shipped in wooden boxes, but not in pasteboard cartons. Fresh, dried and canned fruits must be shipped in wooden boxes. The use of second hand pasteboard cartons is expressly discouraged. Cartons break too easily.

"Those who are shipping things to the east for Christmas ought to have those articles in our hands here as quickly as possible," said Agent Carter today. "The shortage of transportation by reason of the coal situation will undoubtedly make deliveries slow, and the sooner a package is on the way the more certain it is that it will have a chance for delivery by Christmas."

VAST LIQUOR STOCKS READY FOR SHIPMENT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The vast liquor stocks of the country are ready to be released at a moment's notice today should the supreme court, in announcing decisions, hold war-time prohibition unconstitutional. Bonded warehouses in which are stored about 60,000,000 gallons of distilled spirits have been accumulating surplus box cars for the last few weeks to load no time in distributing the liquor as soon as it can be legally sold.

NEW LOW RECORD. NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Franc checks on foreign exchange opened off five cents, at 10.82 establishing a new low record.

Italian exchange also made a new low, lire checks declining to 12.82 and cables to 12.50. Sterling demand opened at $3.8578.

Woman Appeals to Vatican For Annulment of Marriage

MRS. DOROTHY McCOMBS

Society In Washington Is Watching Latest Move of Mrs. McCombs

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Society folks here are watching closely the marital troubles of Mr. and Mrs. William F. McCombs, which has taken a new angle. Mrs. McCombs, who is a member of the Catholic Church, has appealed to the Vatican to have her marriage annulled following her separation from her husband.

The McCombs did not get along well together and their separation caused a great deal of comment among folks in social circles at the capital, where both are well and favorably known. Mrs. McCombs was formerly Miss Dorothy Williams, daughter of Col. John R. Williams, and McCombs gained a great deal of prominence while he was campaign manager for President Wilson in 1912.

ROCKEFELLER ASKED TO REOPEN HOSPITAL

MT. VERNON, N. Y., Dec. 8.—Appeal has been made to John D. Rockefeller to reopen the hospital buildings he established at a cost of $500,000 near the Bedford Reformatory for Women.

The buildings were to have been used for the study of social and mental hygiene. Testimony that girls at the reformatory were "strung up" and given the cold water dash as punishment for violating rules brought out expressions of belief that if the hospital was reopened, girls suffering from hysteria and temper could be cured there without being "tortured."

LAUNCH WEST CALERA IN SPITE OF STRIKE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8.—The West Calera, an 800-ton freighter, built by the Shaw Bacher Company here for the Emergency Fleet Corporation, was launched yesterday at the company's yards in South San Francisco. She was launched sideways, with her boilers, auxiliary machinery and deck machinery in place.

This was the first ship launched since the shipyards reopened several weeks ago. A strike of employees has been in effect there since October 1. Operators pointed to the launching as proof they would run the yards despite the strike. They declared 11,400 men worked yesterday in six of the large yards.

LANDING FLOAT SINKS.

SEATTLE, Dec. 8.—Forty persons were thrown into the icy waters of Pudget Sound last night when a landing float at Manette, thirty miles west of Seattle, capsized under the weight of passengers leaving a ferry boat. An unidentified woman was drowned.

FALL TOLD CHANGE IN PRACTICE MENACE

Resolution to Cut Relations With Carranza Is Very Grave, Says President

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—President Wilson today declared he would be "gravely concerned" to see any resolution like Senator Fall's providing severance of relations with Mexico adopted by Congress.

Wilson further declared that the passage of the Fall resolution "would constitute a reversal of our constitutional practice which might lead to very grave confusion in regard to the guidance of our foreign affairs."

The president's advice on the resolution was submitted in the form of a personal letter to Senator Fall. The text follows:

"Thank you very much for your kind promptness in complying with my request that you send me a copy of the memorandum of the subcommittee on Mexican affairs of the committee of foreign affairs. I shall examine it with the greatest interest and care. What you told me of the investigation on Friday last prepares me to find in it matter of the greatest importance."

"You ask me for an indication of my desire with regard to the pending resolution to which you and Senator Hitchcock called my attention on Friday and I am glad to reply with the utmost frankness that I should be gravely concerned to see any such resolution pass congress. It would constitute a reversal of our constitutional practice which might lead to very grave confusion in regard to the guidance of our foreign affairs."

Initiative With Executive. "I am confident that I am supported by every component constitutional authority in the statement that the initiative in directing the relations of our government with foreign governments is assigned by the constitution to the executive and to the executive only. Only one of the two houses of congress is associated with the President by the constitution in an advisory capacity and the advice of the senate is provided for only when sought by the executive in regard to explicit agreements with foreign governments and the appointment of the diplomatic representatives who are to speak for this government and foreign capitals."

"The only safe course is to adhere to the prescribed method of the constitution. We might go very far afield if we departed from it."

After receipt of the letter, Senator Fall conferred with Senator Lodge, chairman of the foreign relations committee. Lodge then said: "Of course, we shall do nothing now. The whole responsibility for the Mexican situation now rests on the President. We are not even allowed to suggest anything to him. The committee will not again consider the resolution."

"The President does not want us even to express our support. All right, the responsibility is on him. Let him bear it."

1100 YANKS RETURN FROM WAR IN SIBERIA

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8.—Eleven hundred American soldiers returned aboard the transport Sheridan. A large canvas sign on the side of the ship read: "Bolsheviks, Beware! We Are Coming Home To Join the American Legion."

The bodies of forty-five Americans killed in a surprise attack by Bolsheviks in the Suchone district also were aboard.

SHIMMIE FORBIDDEN IN STATE'S SCHOOLS

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 8.—Dancing the "Shimmie" in California schools is forbidden in an opinion rendered in an opinion rendered by Job Wood, Deputy Superintendent of Public Instruction, which rules that only Folk Dances and such practice of the graceful art as does not necessitate the removal of desks and other school furniture should be permitted in educational buildings.

4 KILLED; 8 HURT

ELIZABETH, N. J., Dec. 8.—Four men were killed, eight injured dangerously and eighteen others cut and bruised when a scaffold collapsed at the Bay Way Refinery of the Standard Oil Company here. Several of the injured may die. Several of the injured may die.

U. S. COTTON GINNED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Cotton ginned up to December 1 of this year totalled 8,833,712 running bales, counting round bales as half bales, compared with 9,571,414 for the same period last year.

NOTE OF ALLIES MAY MAKE HUNS SIGN PACT

Modifications Are Made and War Prisoners Will Be Sent Home

sion a note of protest in connection with alleged mistreatment of German war prisoners.
The note grew out of an incident reported from Kiel. The British steamer Santa Elena, it was semi-officially stated, was carrying 500 German prisoners from England when one man escaped at Kiel. British sailors fired at the man. The German commandant then occupied the locks, went aboard the Santa Elena and investigated, it was stated.
Prisoners complained to him, according to the statement, they feared they were being taken to Poland, where they would be forced to enlist in the Polish army. They declared 400 German prisoners previously had been forced to do this.
The German commander ordered the prisoners released, the statement said, as they were within territorial waters. The British released them under protest.

Noske Will Recommend Protocol Be Not Accepted

LONDON, Dec. 8.—"I will recommend that Germany refuse to accept the protocol," Gustave Noske, German minister of defense, was quoted as declaring in an interview in Berlin, printed in the Mail here.
Noske said he could not speak for the nation, according to the interview, but he personally believed "the limit had been passed."
"Let the Allies, who we are unable to oppose, occupy our country," Noske was quoted as saying. "This is not peace, but a prolongation of war."
"I hope the protocol will be rejected, no matter what the consequences," Noske declared, according to the interview. "We have yielded too often. We must resist. The Allies may do what they please, as we are unable to oppose them by military methods."

TICKETS STOLEN FROM SANTA FE EARLY TODAY

Ben Juremiz today is in jail for stealing trash—he stole railroad tickets that could not be used by him or anyone else without the stamp of the selling office. He showed his gratitude for Wm. Martin, night clerk at the Santa Fe, inviting him into the office to warm his toes while he was waiting for the 1:25 a. m. train to El Toro this morning. While Martin's back was turned he stole twenty-one tickets and was arrested when he stepped from the train at El Toro. The tickets were found in his pockets.
While Martin went out for a minute to meet a train, Juremiz grabbed the tickets and went outside to get on the train. Returning to the office, he noticed the tickets missing. City police officers were informed and J. F. Wetmore, agent at El Toro, was notified. When Juremiz stepped from the train he was taken into custody by Wetmore and Section Foreman G. W. Conoway. City Officer John Combs went down to El Toro and brought the man here.
The Mexican has been working for Ben Jerome at El Toro and is reported to have been a very poor workman. He was about to lose his job.

M. E. ASSEMBLY LOCATION NOT MADE

Recent announcement in Los Angeles papers that the annual Methodist Assembly would be changed from Huntington Beach to Naples was premature, according to the statement of Dr. Franklin D. Mather, manager and treasurer of the Huntington Beach Methodist Assembly. Dr. Mather states that no decision will be made until the directors have conferred with a committee appointed by the Huntington Beach Chamber of Commerce, appointed for the purpose of meeting with the directors for a discussion of plans.
A movement is on to establish one of the largest church assemblies in the South, and many sections are making efforts to secure the big feature, which will be permanent.

'CRIMINAL' GETS BOND ISSUE WILL FEATURE A. C. MEETING

Monthly Gathering to Be Held at Brea on Wednesday Evening

The county good roads bond issue and a county unit of the Commercial Federation of California will be the big features of the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce to be held at Brea Wednesday night, this being the November and December session of the county organization.
The committees representing the supervisors' districts, appointed to determine which of the roads of the county should be improved under a bond issue will meet tomorrow evening at 7:30 at the supervisors' rooms in the courthouse, and the action of this committee will be reported to the Associated Chambers, for approval or disapproval.
Interest in the two matters that are to come up for consideration insures a record attendance Wednesday night.

RUNAWAY BOYS ARE CAUGHT IN CITY

Leaving their home in San Diego Friday morning to go to Whittier to visit a brother in the school there, Martin Mercer, 14, and Byron Mercer, 6, passed Saturday night at the Santa Ana detention home, and were returned to San Diego yesterday, in company with their sister, Miss Stella Mercer, who came here after them.
They left home on a bicycle, on a carrier of which was a large clothes basket in which they carried their clothing and something to eat. The older boy pedaled the wheel and the little fellow rode the handlebars. They made good time from the southern city for they passed Friday night in Orange.
Coming to Santa Ana Saturday morning the oldest boy sought and was given employment by C. D. Hayes at his variety store at the corner of Broadway and Fourth Sts. The older lad said that he had to work to support his brother, whom he was sending to a Catholic school. Hayes believed there was something wrong with the boys and got information to the officers.
City Marshal Jernigan quizzed the lads and learned the story of their leaving home and advised the San Diego officers. The latter had not been informed to the boys being missing from home, but got in touch with their mother, and the boys were detained.
They told Jernigan that they had a brother at the Whittier school and were going there to visit him. They were delighted when they say their sister yesterday afternoon and were glad to return home.

SHORTAGE OF COAL TO CONTINUE WEEKS

working hour system, opening at 12 noon and closing at 6 p. m. Office buildings were kept on the 9:00 to 3:30 schedule.
Fuel administration officials announced indications of strike settlement would in no way lessen the necessity for coal conservation.
Even if the strike is settled and miners go back to work immediately it will be three weeks before delivery of fresh coal can be started to consumers, and it will take probably all winter for the mines to catch up with the demand.

Settlement of Strike May Split United Mine Workers

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Dec. 8.—Settlement of the national coal strike on any basis that does not include a substantial increase over the 14 per cent offered by Fuel Administrator Garfield will break the United Mine Workers union wide open.
This was the opinion expressed by Vice President Harry Fishwick of the Illinois organization.
Fishwick is confident the government's offer is for a 20 per cent increase or more.

NEARLY 100 CARS SHIPPED

There were 12 cars of oranges and one car of lemons shipped from the Riverside district last week. This makes 85 cars of oranges and four cars of lemons—89 cars in all—for the new season which opened Nov. 1. That is an unusually big showing for November, due to the fact that considerable quantities of Valencia were available for shipment last month.

MAN ROBBED OF $7100 AND SEVERELY BEATEN

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8.—Joseph Buchta of San Francisco and Kansas City is recovering today from a beating he received sometime during the early hours of yesterday, while police are trying to find $7100 in cash and Liberty bonds thugs are believed to have taken from him.
Buchta was found wandering around the streets, badly dazed, early yesterday. His money, which he had brought here to purchase a hotel, was gone.

MUSIC TEACHER ENTHUSIASTIC OVER RESULTS

Miss Cantril Declares Tanlac is Best Medicine She Ever Heard Of

"I am just simply delighted over my wonderful improvement since I began taking Tanlac," was the enthusiastic statement made the other day by Miss Clara Louise Cantril to the Tanlac representative in Los Angeles. Miss Cantril teaches music and lives at 8405 Elm St., Los Angeles, Cal.
Continuing, she said: "For as long as I can remember my kidneys troubled me and I rarely ever got a good night's sleep or rest. I lost my appetite and what little I did manage to force down would ferment on my stomach and cause gas to form so bad that my heart would palpitate terribly, and at times I came very near fainting. I fell off in weight from one hundred and twenty pounds to ninety-eight and was so nervous and weak that I just had to give up my work."
"Medicines and treatments didn't do me one particle of good and I was about to lose all faith in medicine. A friend of mine kept on insisting so much that I take Tanlac that I consented to give it a trial more to please her than for the good I expected it to do me. But today I am certainly thankful to my friend for it has been nothing short of remarkable the way Tanlac has helped me. My appetite came right back and now I can eat just anything I want and digest it perfectly. My kidneys don't give me any trouble, and I can sleep all night long as sound as a child. I have gained in weight and strength so much that I don't feel at all like the same woman and I am so happy that I don't hesitate to say that Tanlac is the very best medicine I have ever heard of."

SANTA ANA MAN LEADS CLIMB TO HILLTOP

Orville Heaton First to Go Over Coyote Mound In Big Contest

A Santa Ana man yesterday showed the professional motorcycle riders the way to the top of Coyote Hill in the third annual motorcycle hill climb under the auspices of the Los Angeles Motorcycle Club, and while he was the first to go over the top he won none of the honors.
Orville (Shorty) Heaton, riding an Excelsior, is the man who led off the event and negotiated the stiff climb. His time was 38 2-5 seconds. The course was a quarter of a mile and the grade from 35 to 40 per cent. The trail was slippery from the rains of Saturday.
Santa Ana's midget rider made a beautiful ride, showing his skill in handling the two wheel buzz wagon. His performance immediately demonstrated the difference between a novice and a man who is professional in riding. Heaton is one of the good performers in the San Juan Hill climb and his experience on this course stood him in hand yesterday.
The event was witnessed by 7500 people, among whom were hundreds of Orange county fans, machines lining the road in the proximity of the hill as they do in the big Orange county event.
In the novice event, twenty-three were entered. Richard Roe, on a Henderson won first and Bert Dauer on a Harley-Davidson, second.
The contest between professionals was the big event of the afternoon and some fine riding was witnessed. Following is a summary of the two contests:
Novice Class
First—Richard Roe, Henderson, time 42 3-5.
Second—Bert Dauer, Harley-Davidson. Time 44 3-5.
Third—Gene Robinson, Harley-Davidson. Time 50 2-5.
Fourth—William Schrier, Henderson. Time 57 2-5.
Free-For-All
First—Wells Bennett, Excelsior. Time 32 2-5.
Second—Ralph Hepburn, Harley-Davidson. Time 32 4-5.
Third—Ralph Sullivan, Indian. Time 32 4-5.
Fourth—Roy Artley, Indian. Time 31.
Run-off of the tie between second and third—Hepburn, 32 1-5, fastest time of the day.

Miss Cantril Declares Tanlac is Best Medicine She Ever Heard Of

"I am just simply delighted over my wonderful improvement since I began taking Tanlac," was the enthusiastic statement made the other day by Miss Clara Louise Cantril to the Tanlac representative in Los Angeles. Miss Cantril teaches music and lives at 8405 Elm St., Los Angeles, Cal.
Continuing, she said: "For as long as I can remember my kidneys troubled me and I rarely ever got a good night's sleep or rest. I lost my appetite and what little I did manage to force down would ferment on my stomach and cause gas to form so bad that my heart would palpitate terribly, and at times I came very near fainting. I fell off in weight from one hundred and twenty pounds to ninety-eight and was so nervous and weak that I just had to give up my work."
"Medicines and treatments didn't do me one particle of good and I was about to lose all faith in medicine. A friend of mine kept on insisting so much that I take Tanlac that I consented to give it a trial more to please her than for the good I expected it to do me. But today I am certainly thankful to my friend for it has been nothing short of remarkable the way Tanlac has helped me. My appetite came right back and now I can eat just anything I want and digest it perfectly. My kidneys don't give me any trouble, and I can sleep all night long as sound as a child. I have gained in weight and strength so much that I don't feel at all like the same woman and I am so happy that I don't hesitate to say that Tanlac is the very best medicine I have ever heard of."

CAPT. KYNE RAISES HOGS, PERRIS VALLEY

Peter B. Kyne, California author and former captain of a company of "Grizzlies," has purchased a ranch in the Perris valley and is to raise hogs on an extensive scale. To that end he is reported to be taking a course in swine breeding at the University of California.
Tanlac is sold in Santa Ana by Rowley Drug Co., in Fullerton by W. Finch, in La Habra by R. H. Hill, in Huntington Beach by Rigdon's Pharmacy, in Orange by Dittmer's Mission Pharmacy, in Placentia by A. J. Robinson, in Tustin by Tustin Drug Co., in Brea by Brea Pharmacy, in Laguna Beach by Laguna Beach Pharmacy and in Seal Beach by Wm. S. Templeton.

"Ah—Miss Blank, I believe," said he. "Is your father in?"
"No, sir," she replied, "father is not at present. Do you wish to see him personally?"
"Yes," was the bluff response of the visitor, who felt that his former sweetheart was yielding—"I wanted to see him on very particular business," and he turned away haughtily.
"I beg your pardon," she called after him as he reached the last step, "but who shall I say called?"

SANTA ANA MAN LEADS CLIMB TO HILLTOP

Orville Heaton First to Go Over Coyote Mound In Big Contest

A Santa Ana man yesterday showed the professional motorcycle riders the way to the top of Coyote Hill in the third annual motorcycle hill climb under the auspices of the Los Angeles Motorcycle Club, and while he was the first to go over the top he won none of the honors.
Orville (Shorty) Heaton, riding an Excelsior, is the man who led off the event and negotiated the stiff climb. His time was 38 2-5 seconds. The course was a quarter of a mile and the grade from 35 to 40 per cent. The trail was slippery from the rains of Saturday.
Santa Ana's midget rider made a beautiful ride, showing his skill in handling the two wheel buzz wagon. His performance immediately demonstrated the difference between a novice and a man who is professional in riding. Heaton is one of the good performers in the San Juan Hill climb and his experience on this course stood him in hand yesterday.
The event was witnessed by 7500 people, among whom were hundreds of Orange county fans, machines lining the road in the proximity of the hill as they do in the big Orange county event.
In the novice event, twenty-three were entered. Richard Roe, on a Henderson won first and Bert Dauer on a Harley-Davidson, second.
The contest between professionals was the big event of the afternoon and some fine riding was witnessed. Following is a summary of the two contests:
Novice Class
First—Richard Roe, Henderson, time 42 3-5.
Second—Bert Dauer, Harley-Davidson. Time 44 3-5.
Third—Gene Robinson, Harley-Davidson. Time 50 2-5.
Fourth—William Schrier, Henderson. Time 57 2-5.
Free-For-All
First—Wells Bennett, Excelsior. Time 32 2-5.
Second—Ralph Hepburn, Harley-Davidson. Time 32 4-5.
Third—Ralph Sullivan, Indian. Time 32 4-5.
Fourth—Roy Artley, Indian. Time 31.
Run-off of the tie between second and third—Hepburn, 32 1-5, fastest time of the day.

TUNNELS GOING TO MEAN MUCH TO BRITAIN

Her Commercial Prospect Through Projects Is Deeply Interesting

British capital, backed by the government, will construct a tunnel under the Straits of Dover and another under the Straits of Gibraltar. There is to be rail connection between London and Morocco, and the rails will be laid to Egypt, to Nigera, to British East and South Africa. But before connection is made with those distant British dominions, much nearer connection will be made with Dakar, the capital of the French West African possessions and the port of the whole Eastern Hemisphere that lies nearest South America.

This connection with Dakar is significant. The Goudray oil interests have secured the oil concession from the French government of the whole Dakar field, which rivals or surpasses Caspian Baku or Mexican Tampico. The tunnels and the railway will secure Britain oil independent of sea transportation. Since the tunnels are to be sunk many rods beneath the sea floor neither submarines nor airplanes can cut them down.

The commercial prospect is interesting. But the business indicates a final commitment on Britain's part to Latin Europe. Britain once united with Teutonic Europe to dominate Latin Europe. Throughout the Nineteenth century she has alternated between Teuton and Latin. This present century she is to hold definitely with France, Italy, Belgium, Spain and Portugal. Spain since the armistice has gone over to the victors and will be held to them by interest and sympathy.

The economic and military consequences will be accompanied by cultural ones. The cultural ones in particular will be felt in the United States. And as we are destined to a larger communion with the Latin peoples to the south of us, we shall be confirmed in a tendency which promises the best for all civilization.

Anglo-Saxon culture and civilization has been described as a hybrid by its enemies. It is a hybrid, but not therefore contemptible. It derives perhaps its best cultural inspirations from Latin Europe, and perhaps it loses whenever that inspiration decreases. America has suffered too much from Teutonic suggestion these last fifty years, as we have all discovered. If Latin civilization has its defects, we are too sturdy to be harmed by them, whereas the peculiar merits and graces of the Latin genius are needed to correct our mentality and to reform our manners.

It is settled that the world will not be Teutonized. There are left the two European world-cultures, Anglo-Saxon and Latin to affect one another advantageously. It is to be a less brutal and more elegant world on that account, one much better worth living in. What a Teutonized world would have been, may be realized from the dread its threat evoked. The instinctive revolt of the nations against the imminent horror killed Germany. — Minneapolis Journal.

BAILEY TO RUN FOR GOVERNOR OF ARIZONA

ANAHEIM, Dec. 8.—That Major Neill E. Bailey of Prescott, Ariz., may become a candidate for governor is indicated by advices received here from Phoenix this week.

Major Bailey, a brother of Mrs. Henry Kuchel of this city, was formerly a resident of Anaheim, and has many warm personal friends in Anaheim and throughout Orange county, who will be glad to hear of his continued good fortune. He learned the railroad business in Anaheim and was for a number of years engaged in railroad work in this state, Arizona and New Mexico. He was elected to the legislature of Arizona some years ago and was chosen to be speaker of the assembly.

The following reference to him is taken from a Phoenix paper just received here:

"Here for a brief stay, Major Neill Bailey, member of the war department claims court, arrived in Phoenix yesterday from Washington, D. C."

"The return of Major Bailey after a long absence in service, revived the rumor that he will be a Democratic candidate for governor at the coming primary election. It was quite evident that the political gossip had reached the army officer, although he refused to discuss the matter. At the present time I am giving my attention solely to government matters," he declared. "I was granted a few days' absence and came out west on personal business and to visit my relatives. I will return to the capital in a day or two."

Major Bailey stated that he expected to receive his discharge after the first of the year when he will return to Arizona. He will divide his time between Phoenix and Prescott, caring for his business which consists of large cattle interests and mining claims, while his mining stocks in this state alone yield him a large income.

BOOKLET TELLS OF WORK DONE BY JUNIORS

Records of Schools of Santa Ana Chapter, A. R. C., Made Permanent

A beautiful booklet entitled "Report of War Work, Junior Red Cross, Santa Ana Chapter, American Red Cross," has just been published under the direction of Miss Hazel Bemus, chairman of the Junior Red Cross for Santa Ana Chapter.

The Juniors of Santa Ana chapter made a record in war work that won recognition not only at division headquarters in San Francisco, but at national headquarters in Washington. The printed report of the work here is to be filed in a number of departments at Washington, not only as a report of work done during the war, but because of information contained in the report showing the work being done in Santa Ana toward the Americanization of Mexicans.

The report covers a period from September, 1917, to September, 1919. It is a cumulative report for work done through the Junior Red Cross for the following organizations, as well as for the Junior Red Cross: American Committee for Devastated France, French Children, Armenian Relief and A. R. C. Camp Service committee.

The pamphlet contains thirteen cuts showing pictures illustrative of the excellent work done through the schools under the jurisdiction of Santa Ana chapter. The schools included are all of those in Santa Ana and all of those in the districts from and including Seal Beach, Garden Grove and Tustin and every school in the county situated in districts south of them.

The thirty-four schools represented 4,708 pupils, who invested $40,933.43 in War Savings Stamps and $105,170 in Liberty Bonds. The report shows the donations in cash, garments, new clothing, made-over clothing. It shows school room activities of every kind, such as the making of patriotic addresses, taking part in parades, health and gardening activities, the collection of jams and jellies, these and all other departments of the war work done by the schools are covered in the report.

Those on the chapter school committee of Santa Ana chapter were: J. A. Cranston, director; Miss Hazel N. Bemus, chairman; O. Garber, secretary-treasurer; Miss Birdenla Henry, assistant secretary-treasurer; A. E. Henning, salvage; Miss Fannie Pease, salvage; Leroy Warren, manual training; Miss Verna Peterson, publicity; Miss Rowland, sewing; Miss Eva Thacker, intermediate; Miss Lana Brokaw, grade 6; Miss Esther Swedell, grades 1-5.

The chairmen of the various schools, holding the positions all or part of the two-year period, were: Alamitos, Mrs. Clara Silva, Miss Mabel Everett; Bay City, Miss Blanche Loprest; Bolsa, Miss Maude Crane, Miss Louise Grubb; Delhi, Miss Mary Addie Jones, Mrs. Bauer, Miss Carter; Diamond, Miss Elizabeth Merigold, Miss Zylphia Dismukes; El Toro, Mrs. Louise Mock, Miss Marie Beck; Fountain Valley, Mrs. Maude Curl; Garden Grove, Miss Ethel Archer; Huntington Beach—Grammar, Harold C. CONFIRMATION HELD IN FAMOUS MISSION

Impressive confirmation exercises were held yesterday at the historic old mission at San Juan Capistrano in front of the nave, where in the former years of the grand old structure stood the high altar of the chapel, where many worshippers were kneeling and taking part in the celebration of the sacrifice of the mass, when the terrible earthquake of 1812 occurred, killing one hundred people and wrecking the mission.

The ravages which time has made on the ruined walls were covered with green-leaved pepper boughs and vivid red geraniums.

High Rev. Bishop John J. Cantwell, assisted by the mission pastor, Rev. St. John O'Sullivan, conducted the services, making more than sixty in the class "soldiers of the church" by the slap administered on the cheek by the bishop. Bishop Cantwell delivered an instructive sermon.

The beautiful music was rendered by the mission choir and the Sisters from San Luis Rey Mission. Rev. Father Henry Eummelen, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic church, of this city, and some of St. Joseph's sisters, were present, two Santa Ana children, Roseamie Bisson and Nellie Valdez, being in the confirmation class.

There has been no confirmation class in the mission town since the year 1912.

The bishop and others were Father O'Sullivan's guests at a sumptuous dinner, following the beautiful ceremony, the day being ideal for out-of-door devotions.

Failure to ratify didn't break the heart of Europe. But it almost broke the heart of John Barleycorn.

The Price of Pork Chops and Bacon

Here are reasons why the fine, fresh pork tenderloins and pork chops, or savory ham, or crinkly bacon, which you enjoy for breakfast, cost much more per pound than the market quotation on live hogs which you read in the newspaper:

An average hog weighs 220 pounds.

Of this, only 70 per cent (154 pounds) is meat and lard.

So, when we pay 15¢ a pound for live hogs, we are really paying more than 21¢ a pound for the meat which we will get from these animals, even after taking into account the value of the by-products.

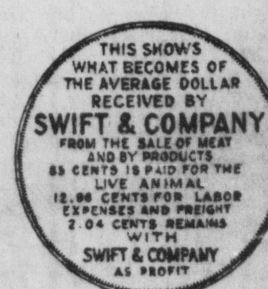

But people show a preference for only one-third of the whole—the pork chops, fancy bacon, and choice cuts from juicy hams.

This means that when we are selling Premium bacon at 43 1/2¢ per pound wholesale and Premium hams at 30¢, there are other parts for which we get as low as 6¢ or 8¢ per pound. The net result is an average profit to us of less than 1¢ a pound.

The choice cuts are higher because of a demand for them.

Another thing: Only 35 pounds of the entire hog—or about 1/6 th—is usually marketed at once. The rest must be pickled, cured, or smoked. This takes months, and adds to the costs which must be met.

An Enviably Reputation Already Won

Hundreds of dealers who drove new Cleveland Sixes from the factory in Cleveland to their home cities have written the factory expressing their admiration and confidence in the car. What they all say is summed up in this sentence from one of them, "I can look any man in the face now and tell him the Cleveland is a regular automobile."

And that's what the Cleveland Six is—a regular automobile, an unusual automobile.

Hundreds of Cleveland Sixes, within the past four months, have undergone long, gruelling, cross country drives, with honor. They have passed over great hill drives and long mountain climbs, plowed through mud and washouts and desert sands where other cars stall and stop. Its power and endurance have already won the Cleveland an enviable reputation.

This is not surprising for skill and sincerity are built into this car by men who have contributed their genius to the building up of one of America's finest quality cars.

MAN SAYS SUIT OF CLOTHES IS ONLY ASSET

First Meeting of One Creditor of G. Fred Pressel Is Held

With the holder of a note of $2500 originally given to a woman whose marriage to G. Fred Pressel of Anaheim was annulled some time after the note was given as an only creditor and a suit of clothes as his only asset, G. Fred Pressel appeared before Attorney B. E. Tarver this morning and was questioned as to what property he had that might be used in satisfying the claims of the creditor.

Tarver is local referee in bankruptcy. Pressel's petition in bankruptcy was referred to Tarver by the federal court in Los Angeles.

In the last three or four years, Pressel's name has appeared in litigation in this county. Pressel, well known at Anaheim, married a fortune teller, and they lived together but a short time. The woman was arrested on a charge of having attempted to poison Pressel, but the action was dismissed. Action to annul the marriage was begun by Pressel, and the woman then sued for damages, alleging false arrest.

Pressel won in the courts here. It appears that he gave Mrs. Rosa Pressel, the woman in the case, a note of $2500, and that note was afterward transferred by her to some one else. According to Pressel's petition in bankruptcy, the note is now in the hands of D. F. Smith of Los Angeles.

Pressel's petition sets forth Smith as the only creditor. Tarver states that the case is the first he has had in which there was but one creditor.

Pressel's only asset is the clothing he wears, and a valuation of $50 is recited as its worth. Under the law it will be exempt.

Before Tarver this morning, Pressel testified that he has no personal property other than his clothing and that he has no real estate.

Orders Re-Opening.
Tarver has received word that the federal court in Los Angeles has ordered a re-opening of the case of O. M. Brown of Balboa.

Brown went through bankruptcy some time ago. According to information received here, creditors who were then concerned now allege that in the proceedings Brown failed to give account for all of the property that should have been listed. The papers for re-opening the case have not yet been received by Tarver.

Tarver has just received the petition for bankruptcy filed by Dr. Frances Marshall of Garden Grove, an osteopath. The petition was referred to him by the federal court.

ASKS ESTATE LETTERS
H. L. Haynes, with F. C. Drumm of Orange as his attorney, and through a petition which was filed today, will seek the administration of the estate of C. A. Newman, who died on November 19, leaving a note for $5500, secured by a mortgage on real estate in this county.

Wilson has appointed delegates to another conference to settle industrial problems. Thank goodness, there is one man who still has faith.

3 Of 1200 Motorists At Death Corner Violated Law, Claim

OF 1200 motorists who passed the intersection of the state highway and the La Habra-Brea road, yesterday, between the hours of 3 p. m. to 5:30 p. m., only three drove across in such a way as to constitute a violation of state motor vehicle laws.

That was the statement today of County Motor Officer Roy Ballard, who kept count yesterday during the period indicated.

The intersection is sometimes referred to as the Ashley oil station corner, and frequently is called "Death Corner," by reason of the numerous accidents that have occurred there.

The three motorists whom Officer Ballard arrested on charges of cutting a corner, at the intersection in question were M. F. Tufts of Los Angeles, A. Elliott of El Monte, and F. H. Clock of Redlands.

County Motor Officer O. K. Carr, who was on duty at the intersection between the hours of 11 a. m. to 3 p. m., arrested the following on charges of violations of motor laws: D. R. Le Retch, R. B. Casbera, D. J. La Brache, all of San Diego; J. M. Miller, of Whittier, J. Gardiner and C. E. Blodgett, of Los Angeles and C. A. Boody, of San Dimas.

The speed allowed by law at intersections is 15 miles an hour. Three of those arrested by Carr are charged with speeding at the intersection.

YELLOW FACED MAN SOUGHT BY POLICE

Officers of Orange county today were seeking to place in custody a man whom they described as "The Man with the Yellow Face," who is alleged to have held up a man at San Diego of $50 in cash.

The mysterious hold-up man, according to a report on file at the office of Sheriff C. E. Jackson today, had painted a part of his face with iodine. In addition to this, officers said, he wore yellow glasses at the time he committed the alleged robbery.

It was stated that after the alleged crime was committed the robber went to an automobile stage station at San Diego and sought to hire a special car to take him to San Juan Capistrano.

The robber took $60 in silver, a $20 bill and two $5 bills from his victim, according to the report to Sheriff Jackson. Several checks also were taken by the thief, it is reported.

The man was described as about 25 years of age, 5 feet, 5 inches in height, and of about 150 pounds in weight. He wore a brown suit and a soft collar, according to the description furnished by the San Diego authorities.

NAVAL AVIATION FILM AT WEST END TONIGHT

A traveling party for naval recruiting arrived here this afternoon with a twelve-minute moving picture real showing scenes in naval aviation. Arrangements have been made by R. W. Corson, navy recruiting officer, to have the film run tonight at the West End Theatre. The film arrived here early this afternoon and the arrangements made at once, little time being given for publicity in advance of its presentation. It will be an added attraction at the West End tonight.

SWEETS STORE IS CENTER IN NEW ROW

W. T. Alling Is Made Defendant In Action Begun By Building Owner

That W. T. Alling, who is being sued by his wife, Claudia Alling, for separate maintenance, is defendant in litigation, further involving the Cherry Blossom confectionery, at 122 East Center street, Anaheim, was revealed by an action which was on file in superior court today and through which Rosalie Hart Laneburg, owner of the premises, will seek a return of the property, which, she claims is being unlawfully withheld from her.

Defendant with Alling in the new suit, which was filed through Attorney Leonard Evans of Anaheim, was Grover Deakins, now in control of the Cherry Blossom confectionery business.

It was recited in the complaint that immediately prior to December 1, last, Alling was in possession of the premises as the tenant at will of the plaintiff, which tenancy was on that date terminated by the plaintiff on thirty days' written notice served on the defendants.

The written notice, the complaint set forth, contained notice to the defendants that the tenancy of W. T. Alling would end on December 1, and contained also a demand on the defendants to quit the premises and surrender them on December 1.

On the same day, it was recited, the plaintiff served on the defendants a written notice to relinquish the premises and allow the plaintiff to enter them within three days thereafter.

During Alling's tenancy, the complaint alleged, Deakins entered into the possession of the premises and now continues to hold possession jointly with Alling.

The defendants, the complaint said, disregarding the notices served on them, have failed and refused and still fail and refuse to vacate or surrender the possession of the property, "and by menaces and threats of violence to plaintiff, evidenced by commands to the plaintiffs and orders to her" to desist from entering upon the premises "unlawfully hold and keep the possession of said premises and are now in the forcible possession thereof."

The plaintiff alleged that in consequence of the alleged unlawful acts of the defendants, she has been deprived of the use of the premises and the building thereon, to her alleged damage in the sum of $75.

Judgment for the restitution of the premises and for treble the amount of her alleged damage is asked by the plaintiff.

OTAY TOOL SUIT DISMISSED HERE

Dismissal was entered today in the suit brought in January of this year by the city of San Diego against Van R. Kelsey and James C. Byers, sheriff of San Diego county, and in which was involved a quantity of tools and equipment used in the repair of the Lower Otay dam, which was destroyed in a flood in January, 1916.

The suit was dismissed without prejudice to the rights of either of the defendants.

The pleadings in the case are voluminous. In the complaint filed in January an order was asked enjoining the defendants from disposing by sheriff's sale of any of the construction tools involved, pursuant to an execution issued out of superior court in Los Angeles county. The execution was in the sum of $11,338.12.

It was alleged that on August 30, 1918, after James Q. Kennedy, a contractor, had failed to carry out provisions of an agreement with reference to reconstructing the Lower Otay dam, the city of San Diego had operations suspended and Kennedy delivered possession of part of the tools. It was to prevent the sale of these tools that the action, which was dismissed today, was brought.

REPORTS HORSES STRAYED.

C. N. Grace, local real estate dealer, today reported to Sheriff C. E. Jackson that two bay mares, both with white faces, had strayed.

'IN-LAWS' IN NEW BATTLE IN COURT

Indicative of the unloosening of another storm on the sea of the relationships between the two families, J. T. Crowell and his wife, Ruth Crowell, today filed an action in justice court against F. J. Gist and his wife, Minnie Gist, through which the plaintiffs will seek a judgment of $100, alleged to be due for services rendered by Mrs. Crowell. Gist is a son-in-law of Crowell. Several days ago Gist was fined $15 in justice court on a charge of battery, brought by Crowell. It was said that trouble arose between the two men when Crowell raised the rent on premises Gist was occupying from $6 to $9 per month.

Introduced in evidence at the trial was a club, about 18 inches in length, which was alleged to have been flung by Mrs. Crowell at Gist while the latter was inflicting the alleged physical punishment upon the plaintiffs.

In the civil action, which was placed on file by Attorneys Sanaker and Smith, it was alleged that the services for which remuneration is asked were performed by Mrs. Crowell in the period between October 10 and December 1. Mrs. Crowell acted as a nurse for Mrs. Gist, it was stated.

HOLLY VANDALS DESTROY MANY TREES, SAYS RANGER

Forest Service Will Prosecute Those Who Break Off Big Limbs

That scores of people who go into the nearby mountains after California holly are nothing more nor less than vandals in their treatment of the holly trees—or bushes, for the holly is small in stature—is the declaration of District Forest Ranger J. B. Stephenson of El Toro.

Similar complaints have come from lovers of trees, and more particularly lovers of the beautiful berries of the holly, from all over the state where the holly grows. "There is only one considerable way to gather holly," said Stephenson, "and that is by cutting off twigs of holly, not limbs. In their unthinking and frantic desire to get at particularly nice berries, many people break off big limbs. I have come upon trees broken down by just such vandals."

Last week, going up into the mountains in one of the canyons, I saw a particularly fine holly tree. It was well shaped and was covered with large red berries. When I returned, the trees were very nearly destroyed. Some party of people who no doubt fancied that they were lovers of the beautiful had attacked that tree. Big limbs had been broken off, stripped of the berries and left there. The tree will never again be good in shape, and the chances are that it will never again grow a good crop of berries. The limbs that were broken off ripped big gashes in the tree, and the tree may die.

One Common Occurrence "Just such actions as that are a common occurrence. Much of the holly in this county is upon private ground, and it is this holly that is gradually being exterminated by automobile parties. The holly that lies further back in the mountains in the Cleveland Forest Reserve has not received quite so much rough treatment. One thing is certain, and that is that I shall make arrests of persons I find mutilating trees in the forest reserve."

"The national forest officials have no objection to private parties going into the national forest after holly and taking what they want for personal use. Churches and lodges can get what they want for decoration. Anyone who goes there after holly that is to be sold must first get a permit from the forest office and must pay twenty-five cents a sack for all that is taken. "Holly that is properly gathered helps a tree. When a twig from six inches to eighteen inches in length is cut off, the chances are that it will bring out half a dozen twigs the next year, and the berries will be brighter and better for the trimming that the tree receives."

Must Protect Trees "The forest service realizes that thousands of people get a great deal of pleasure in gathering holly and in having holly for decorations in their homes, and it is glad that it can allow the use of the forest to gratify those desires, but we must protect the trees so that people next year and succeeding years shall have equal pleasure with theirs. That reason alone of the forest officials is going to keep a sharp lookout for vandals. The prosecutions will be in the federal courts."

Unfortunately the holly trees in the lower canyons on private properties have already suffered great damage. One could hardly blame the owners if they would put up no trespass signs. That would be hard upon the great majority of the people who do appreciate the fact that holly trees must be treated with consideration if they are to live on and continue to bear holly berries."

Santa Ana Women's Feet Of Cinderella Size Say Local Dealers In Shoes

ENTER Santa Ana shoe dealers, with testimony to the effect that the women of this city run San Diego a close second when it comes to a question of small feet. The southern city, according to dispatches, lays claim to the distinction that its women have the smallest feet in America. Of course, San Diego admits, this does not apply to every woman, but the majority of them. Four and a half is the average size of shoes sold to women of San Diego.

Now come footwear merchants of Santa Ana, and set forth that while Santa Ana women's feet may not be as diminutive as the feet of San Diego's women, still the county seat daughters—purchase, on the average, sizes running from 5 to 5½ and 6.

R. C. Peterson, local shoe man, today said that the women's shoes he sells average those sizes. When pinned down, Peterson stated he believed that the average size would be 5½. This is just a half size larger than the average size sold in Los Angeles and Washington, D. C., according to the latest compiled pedal statistics revealed in San Diego dispatches.

H. D. Connell, manager of the Turner Shoe Company, said that the average sizes of women's shoes sold at his store ranged from 5 to 5½ and 6. When asked to give an exact average, Connell declined to be "pinned down."

Many Small Feet. However, while these figures would indicate that Santa Ana women have somewhat larger pedal extremities than those of San Diego, fair Santa Anans will find consolation in the statement of R. R. Miles, of the Miles Shoe Company, to the effect that there are as many small feet in Santa Ana as in any city he had been in.

"The fact is that we sell women's shoes ranging in sizes from 2 to 9," said Miles. "While there are, comparatively, as many women with small feet in this city as I have seen in larger cities, the fact is that we also sell quite a number of the larger-sized shoes."

"When it comes to a question to narrowness of feet," Miles continued, "there is no doubt that the women of Santa Ana are on a par with the women of any other city. We make a specialty of small and narrow shoes for women."

Further consolation for the fair sex of the city may be found in the (Continued on page eight)

PLANS TO LIFT CHURCH DEBT OF $3800 WILL LET COAST ROAD CONTRACT NEXT SPRING

Announcement was made at the First Presbyterian church yesterday that at the morning service on Sunday, December 21, the church will give a Christmas present to itself. The gift will be at least $3800. The church has an indebtedness of $3800 holding over from the cost of making an addition to the church. It is proposed to take up a special collection on the morning of December 21 in order to clear away that debt, so that the church can start in 1920 without owing a dollar to anyone.

COUNTY POULTRY SHOW NEXT MONTH

Endorsing a proposal of the Orange County Poultry and Pet Stock Association to hold a poultry and pet stock show in that city in January, the Huntington Beach Chamber of Commerce has appointed C. C. Knight, Kyle Howard and Ed Manning as a committee to co-operate with the association in arranging for the display. It is suggested that the merchants offer some big buying bargain during the period of the show as a further inducement to attendance at the display, and this probably will be done.

BEACH CITY TO VOTE ON BOND ISSUE FOR PAVILION MEETS SUCCESS IN ITS DRIVE FOR CHURCH FINANCES

Huntington Beach Proposes Expending $150,000 For City Improvements

City Attorney Blodgett of Huntington Beach today has authority from the board of trustees to prepare the necessary legal papers for submitting a bond issue of $150,000 to the voters of that city for the purpose of buying lot property on the water front, the erection of a pavilion and improvements in the present bath house, including heating the water in the plunge.

The action of the trustees was taken on the recommendation of a committee appointed for the purpose of making an investigation and securing approximate costs. It was recommended that G. A. Howard of Los Angeles be employed as architect to prepare plans and supervise the work of construction of the pavilion.

A number of resident property owners were present at the session at which the action was taken and prior to the matter being submitted to a vote of the trustees expressions were made for and against the proposed improvement. The election date was not decided on.

COMES BACK TO OLD HOME FOR ADDRESSES PROTEST AGAIN TO JAP FORCE AT FOCHOW

Rev. Willis Martin, a graduate of Santa Ana High School, now a prominent minister and pastor of the First Methodist Church of Hollywood, is to speak twice in Santa Ana tomorrow, once at the Santa Ana high school and once at the meeting of the Men's Booster Brotherhood of the First Methodist Church of Santa Ana.

Rev. Martin is to speak in Santa Ana at the invitation of the High School authorities and the Booster Brotherhood. Charles F. Heil and a number of other Santa Anans were fellow students with Dr. Martin, and, in fact, it is through the solicitation of his former schoolmate, Mr. Heil that Rev. Martin comes to the city and he will be entertained at the Heil residence while in Santa Ana. Mr. Howarth, who was the first principal of the high school, and who was serving in that capacity when Willis Martin graduated is also in Santa Ana and will take luncheon with the "boys" at the Heil home.

Dr. Martin will speak at the High School in the morning and will address the Booster Brotherhood at its banquet at the First Methodist church in the evening. The Brotherhood is making this occasion for open house and is inviting the men of Santa Ana to share this privilege with it.

Willis Martin has earned for himself an enviable record which brings credit both to himself and the high school. He has served prominent churches of his denomination in the east and has recently concluded a seven-year pastorate at Boise, Idaho.

EXPECTS TO POST INCOME TAX LIST

Postmaster Overshiner may soon receive a list of all residents of this section who pay income taxes. If received this list will be posted in the Santa Ana postoffice. Some time ago, postmasters were informed that lists of that kind were to be sent out. Postmaster Overshiner has received no list as yet, but may receive one soon, as these lists have been received and posted by several other Southern California postmasters.

The first list to be posted will not be complete. Supplemental lists will be posted. It is understood here that the list does not show the amount of income tax paid.

Owner Protects Dogs from Rain and Takes Wetting

CHEEDINGHAM, Eng., Dec. 8.—Some people think that cursing may be bordering on cruelty to animals, particularly if a live "bait" is used to make the race swift and interesting. However, cruelty is the last thing that is permitted by the owners of the handsome blooded greyhounds in the coursing events and the greatest of care is taken of the dogs. For the most part, these fleet dogs are great pets and are pampered like babies. In a recent event here, it began to rain. Now rain won't hurt any dog particularly if it is just a nice warm shower, but one owner thought his two handsome hounds would be better off under shelter and as there was none handy, he took off his overcoat, put it over the dogs and put them under his umbrella while he stood out in the rain and took a wetting. The dogs evidently liked the experience from the way they posed for their picture.

Elks in Beautiful Rites Pay Reverent Tribute to Memory of Dead Brothers

Principal Address Given by Judge Hugh H. Craig of Riverside

Featured by what was today declared to have been one of the finest memorial addresses ever heard in this city, Santa Ana Lodge No. 794, B. P. O. E., last night in the lodge room paid tribute to the memory of their brothers who have crossed the Great Divide.

The address was given by Judge Hugh H. Craig, of the superior court, Riverside county, himself an Elk. Judge Craig dwelt with impressive reverence upon the fundamental principles of the Elks' lodge, charity, justice, brotherly love and fidelity. The memorial services were marked by beautiful simplicity. The loving influence of departed comrades made itself felt throughout the ceremonies.

Selections by the Elks' orchestra, under the direction of C. C. Langley, were given prior to the opening of the Lodge of Sorrows. "Somewhere a Voice is Calling" was given as a cornet solo by J. D. Mathews.

The entrance of the lodge took place to the strains of "The Priest's March," by Mendelssohn. The opening ceremonies were in charge of esteemed Leading Knight R. C. Peterson, who officiated in the absence of Exalted Ruler W. F. Diers, who is at present in Arizona. After a prayer by the chaplain of the lodge, Rev. W. L. H. Benton, the Elks' quartette sang, "The Long Day Closes" by Sullivan. The members of the quartette are L. B. Babbitt, R. R. Miles, A. J. Garroway and W. C. Vierra.

The reading of the roll call by Secretary W. W. Wasser followed. A solo, "The Vacant Chair" was sung by A. J. Garroway. The address was then delivered by Judge Craig. The quartette sang "Softly Now the Light of Day," by Parker. The eulogy was pronounced by Attorney H. G. Ames of Anaheim. The benediction was pronounced by Chaplain Benton and the ceremony concluded with the orchestra playing the march "Romania," by Gounod.

Judge Craig in his address, dwelling on the four cardinal principles of the order, charity, justice, brotherly love and fidelity, said that out of the first two grows the chief virtues of brotherly love. The speaker cited many historical instances of self-sacrifice, chief among them the story of the Good Samaritan, and of the knight of old, who gave the few drops of water, which might have saved his own life, to the dying soldier.

"Fidelity embraces all the other virtues," said Judge Craig, "and fidelity is the foundation of this service, whereby we commemorate the lives and virtues and good deeds of (Continued on page eight)

DEATH MYSTERY UNDER PROBE BY SLEUTHS AT POMONA

Two Men, One From Fullerton, Other From Brea Find Man's Body

Discoverers of the body of an aged man believed to be that of D. Bird, of Lompoc, William J. Corbitt of Brea and Walter Brather of Fullerton today were central figures in a death mystery which the police of Pomona were striving to clear up.

Corbitt and Brather found the body lying on the Pomona Valley boulevard, about a mile west of the city limits. The two men had been to Pomona in Brather's automobile and were returning to their homes. At about 1 o'clock Saturday morning, Corbitt, who was driving, felt the wheels of the machine pass over something soft and hurriedly put on the brakes, according to a statement made by Corbitt.

Their car stopped, and the two men hurried back. It was Corbitt who started to find that a dark object lying on the highway was the body of a man. As they made the discovery they were joined by Judge Harry M. Mason and Eben Gapp, of Pomona.

The body, which was said to have been still warm, was brought to a hospital at Pomona, after officers had been summoned. Life was extinct. It was reported that three men were seen in the vicinity shortly before the body was discovered. "They together with the fact that no money or valuables were found on the body led police to the theory that the man may have met with foul play. However, it was stated that no marks of violence were found. The police believe it is possible the man may have been struck by a passing automobile. Additional mystery was added to the case by reason of the officers having been unable to find the man's hat. The identity of the dead man was believed to have been established by the name on a fishing license he carried and also on a note for $35 drawn on the First National Bank of Lompoc, a small place a few miles north of Santa Barbara. The man, who was dressed in blue overalls, apparently was more than 60 years of age.

HUNTING IS ENJOYED BY FORMER SOLDIERS

Those who have been reading the Register's Old Hunter Series and who have been interested in the stories of hunting for wild hogs in swamps and canyons—near here in the early days will also be interested in the following, taken from a Fresno paper:

Hunting wild hogs at Riverbank. This is no flight of imagination, but an actuality. Of course they are not the same breed the former Kaiser and President Roosevelt killed in the Black Forest but are just as wild and probably more ferocious. For several years the thicket on the Spunker ranch just west of Riverbank has been their rendezvous and some years ago Mr. Spunker killed one weighing 500 pounds while he was assisting in the hunt.

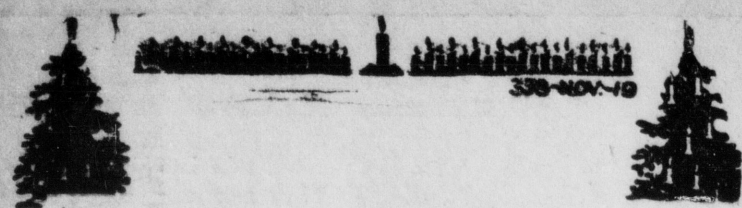

At different times since raids have been made and occasionally a small one killed, but not until last Saturday was an organized effort made to kill any of game.

M. J. Kline and son, with Tom Holmes, who is renting the Spunker ranch at present, and a few neighbors armed with high powered automatic rifles invaded the thicket and after several hours and a drove of 20 to 25 in sight, Kline succeeded in killing one of medium size that had become separated from the drove that dressed 300 pounds.

The meat of this animal which evidently was several years old was very palatable, as it had fed on acorns and roots growing in the sloughs of the Stanislaus that runs through the ranch. Old settlers claim these hogs originally were ordinary farm stock that were carried down from river during flood season, landing on the Spunker ranch. Being isolated from their former haunts, they have reverted to their original element.

An effort is being made by big game hunters of this vicinity to have Mr. Holmes organize a party of properly equipped men with a view of securing the balance of the drove. The topography of the country surrounding would make fine setting for camera work and if the big hunt is staged it is possible it may be filmed at the same time.

May There Be No Vacant Branch on Our Christmas Tree This Year

- The joy that comes to us when we contribute to the happiness of others is as refreshing as a gentle rain in April.
- It is such an easy thing to wrap up one more tiny tissue paper parcel.
- It is such an easy thing to send a cheery greeting to every friend you know.
- It is such an easy thing to remember the folks that some one else is likely to forget.
- It is such an easy thing to add another happy Christmas thought to the ones already spoken.
- Perhaps you took time Thanksgiving Day to make up an old-fashioned Christmas list.
- Did you include in it everyone to whom a remembrance would bring joy and happiness?
- Just remember that it is not the size of the gift, nor the kind of a gift, nor the cost of a gift that matters.
- It is only the thought of the gift that counts.

FEET OF CITY'S OSTRICH FIGHT FOR MATE IS CLAIM

Santa Ana Merchants Say Average Size of Shoe Here Is Five

statement by P. G. Beissel, of Winslow & Beissel, shoe dealers, Beissel declared that undoubtedly when the average was arrived at in San Diego, whoever made the average included the feet of Japanese and Mexican women in the figures, people of these races having exceptionally small feet.

Average Size Five.

Furthermore, Beissel says that the average size of shoes worn by Santa Ana women, according to sales made at his store, is 5 and possibly 5½.

"San Diego, of course, is a city considerably larger than Santa Ana," Beissel said. "And it is a fact that in the larger cities there is a greater tendency among women to wear their shoes longer and narrower. In a city like San Diego this would naturally tend to pull down the average size of women's shoes. Here in Santa Ana, however, it has been my experience that the women want their shoes fitted according to the size of their feet."

At the same time, Beissel said, "When a girl comes into our store and buys a pair of loose-fitting rubber-soled tennis shoes and goes out on the courts for several hours of strenuous exercise, as many of our young women do here, naturally her foot will become larger," said Beissel.

The average size of shoes sold to women in Pittsburgh is five, according to word from San Diego. Indianapolis has the distinction of selling the greatest amount of No. 11, the largest size women's shoes made, dispatches said.

Old Day Reputation.

"The daughters of the Southland in the olden days had the reputation of having the tiniest feet, but due to the influx of so many northerners a kind of mixed grill has resulted," is the word from San Diego.

"The most popular style of shoe worn here is a heavy tan oxford with short vamp and rather wide toe, while the dainty ankle is shown up by silk 'socks'."

"Milwaukee is most pessimistic about her outlook, as since that city has been bereft of its beer the average size of women's shoes has jumped a whole size."

Another Santa Ana dealer who states that the sizes of women's feet in Santa Ana will average from 5 to 5½, is Chester A. Watkins, who will shortly open a new store in the New Santa Ana, formerly the Rossmore, hotel building, corner Fourth and Sycamore streets.

"While I have not sold any shoes in this city as yet, it has been my observation that women's feet here are as small as they are in Los Angeles."

Watkins for eighteen months was floor manager in a large shoe store in Los Angeles. Stock sheets there revealed that there were more 5's and 5½'s sold than any other sizes. Watkins formerly owned shoe stores in Riverside and in San Bernardino.

Females Battle Fiercely to Win Handsome Bird For Their Lifemate

One of the fiercest and most remarkable battles ever witnessed in this vicinity occurred at the South Pasadena Ostrich Farm when two female birds battling for a mate fought until one dropped dead, says the Pasadena Star-News. It is mating season and the two magnificent birds both set upon the same black South African male for their life partner. It is the custom for the females to choose their partners, according to Superintendent T. L. Kendall, and when these two sought to appropriate the same husband, the battle was on.

They fought with all the fierceness of scorned femininity, kicking straight ahead and about four feet high, striking each other with the force of pile driver blows. It was no use to attempt to separate them, Mr. Kendall says. All the keepers could do was to shout in hopes that they might scare the battling, infuriated ostriches. It was no use. Finally one floored the other and landed four hard blows on the breast of the giant bird, caving it in.

The bird on the ground struggled to its feet only to be knocked down again and finally a mass of pulp collapsed and died in a short time. The victorious ostrich then sought the male bird for which she fought and won and they were given a pen to themselves. Having won her mate the female bird is married for life as the male bird never chooses a second wife even when the first mate dies.

Fierce Battle

The battle yesterday morning, according to Mr. Kendall, was the first he had witnessed for some time to amount to anything. It was fierce from the start, he says, and the winner had the battle in hand at all times evidently its first blows having stunned its opponent. Mr. Kendall will tan the hide of the bird and use the leather for novelties.

Taking a reporter to his office where he has a skeleton of an ostrich he pointed out the blow that killed the loser. The ostrich has no wish bone and only flesh, skin and slight gristle covers the spot where most birds have bone protection. The winning bird had planted a blow on this soft spot rupturing the covering and caused the losing bird to collapse. Mr. Kendall also called attention to the three joints in the ostrich leg where other birds only have two.

The brain of the dead ostrich was taken from its skull. It weighs less than an ounce which shows why an ostrich has no sense, Mr. Kendall says. The brain will be preserved in alcohol. It is in halves and each half is about the size of a silver dollar.

The winning bird, while somewhat lame from the combat, seems to be none the worse for the fight that gave her a lifemate and she nonchalantly ate copper pennies, oranges, a bit of jewelry and anything offered. Discussing the habits of the birds, Mr. Kendall said that he had just finished clipping the flock for feathers. He simply puts a sack over the bird's head and with a pruning shears clips the feathers, leaving the stubs which drop off in 60 days. There is no pain in relieving the birds of their feathers, he says, and no danger, for as soon as the cover is over the bird's head it stands still and permits the clipping.

Lay Thirty Eggs

The females lay about 25 to 30 eggs a season. If allowed to hatch the eggs they lay only 12 to 13 as that is all they can cover. The female sits on the eggs all day and the male at night to hatch them. However the eggs are now hatched in incubators and more are laid in consequence. The hens do not seem to mind taking the eggs from them, he says. It takes six weeks for an egg to hatch. The hens lay every other day.

The male birds are black and the females grey. The North Africans have pink skins and the South Africans blue. Feathers are first plucked at nine months, but the older the bird the finer the feathers and the birds live to be 75 to 80 years old. It is a common remark of women tourists that they wish they were an ostrich.

The oldest pair at present at the farm is 35 years old. The ostriches mate at five years. They are full grown as to size at one year but not matured until they reach five years. Sex can be determined only by the color and all birds are brown until the fourteenth month when the males turn black and the females grey.

History of Colony

There are 236 ostriches at the farm now all of which are the descendants of 18 birds that Edwin Cawston brought from South Africa in 1886. There is a worth-while tale connected with this importation of ostriches. Mr. Cawston went to Africa to buy 500 ostriches. He outfitted a ship with padded cells to protect the birds and when he began to load birds at a South African port the ostrich men scenting American competition rushed an export law through parliament making the export fee $1000 a pair. This was prohibitive and when Mr. Cawston learned of it and that the law was effective at midnight he loaded 50 birds and passed beyond the three mile limit at 11 p. m., thus escaping the tax. Of these 50 birds, however, 32 died at sea, and only 18 arrived here in safety, the progenitors of all American ostriches to Southern California the ideal climate in which to rear the birds.

While a Star-News reporter was at the farm an enraged bird kicked a post 4 by 4 inches snapping it like a brittle stick. He was angered at being teased with a bit of bright yellow metal. He had swallowed a padlock an hour before, and Mr. Kendall says, he swallowed the

FINDS OUTLOOK FOR BEANS IS ENCOURAGING

Stockton Man Declares That Treaty Delay Has Made the Market Poor

President G. A. Turner of the California Bean Growers' Association, who has just returned from an extended trip in the East, where he has been looking after the export and other business of the association, is very optimistic as to the future of the bean industry. During his absence Turner completed arrangements for the sale of some 230,000 sacks of beans for export and just previous to his return, closed an order for 3,500 tons for the relief commission, for immediate shipment.

Turner is a resident of Stockton. The association he represents is distinct from the California Lima Bean Growers' Association, in which most of the bean growers of Orange county have membership, but in general the beans he represents and the lima beans are subject to the same general market conditions.

Returning to Stockton, in speaking of the general situation, Mr. Turner said: "In my opinion the unsettled condition of the export bean market is largely due to the delay in signing the peace treaty. This has had the effect, as far as export business is concerned, of unsettling financial conditions, as refers to foreign exchange and until the peace treaty has been signed, the European markets which naturally reflect financial conditions, will not show the activity they usually do. There is a large foreign requirement for beans and these orders must ultimately be filled from American stocks."

"The eastern market will no doubt be greatly relieved by the volume of the orders obtained by the association, as they are spot orders and the effect of the release of this quantity of beans. Already there is a firmer tone and normal advances on all varieties are looked for in the very near future. The trade in general is taking more interest in beans and there seems to be no question but that we are over the peak and a good business will continue from now on."

"As to the general 1919 crop conditions, data thus far secured would indicate a substantial decrease in both American and Oriental crops, the decrease being greater than quoted in the most conservative statements thus far given out."

"I had several conferences with Herbert Hoover, who takes a very optimistic view of the general situation, and beans in particular. Mr. Hoover stated that there is no large surplus of beans today over the world's needs and the American production over our home requirements should ordinarily be absorbed by European nations. He also was of the opinion that the present difficulty in marketing was due to delay in ratifying the peace treaty. The gold and securities of European countries have been greatly exhausted, and without the raw material to give their people work, they are unable to export goods in exchange for food, as is normally the case. They are therefore forced to buy food and raw material on credit until economic conditions adjust themselves and with a low credit, orders are naturally slow in being placed. This he thought was but temporary and with the consummation of peace, American products should resume their normal flow toward Europe."

"The movement to the domestic consuming centers is greater at this time than it has been at any period since the termination of the year. The fact that these goods are going into direct consumption is one of the most encouraging aspects of the situation. While prices are still below production cost on some varieties, the general tendency is for a steady improvement. One of the greatest facts favoring the California producer is the excellent quality of this year's production, which, owing to favorable harvesting weather, comes through absolutely free from rain damage and consequently the California product can compete favorably with the product of any other bean-producing section."

"The large quantity of more or less damaged beans from last year's crop was one of our greatest problems, but happily these damaged beans have practically all been disposed of."

"Negotiations are now pending on two very large export orders, the details of which the association hopes to be able to announce in the very near future."

Returning to the dead ostrich, its hide will be tanned, the flesh rendered into soap and the skeleton articulated as a part of the curios of the farm. It will give the spectators a new subject to dilate upon in describing the battle for a mate.

MEXICANS SEEK HONEY DULCE FOR SUGAR

Legend of Toltecs Revived By Appearance of Cactus Candy

Now that the scarcity of sugar has curtailed candy making to some extent the appearance in the markets of a new dulce made of honey and the cactus pulp calls attention to an old confection of the Mexicans. For ages past they have had their home-made dulces using wild honey and cactus together with other ingredients. Cocoanuts and pineapples are boiled in honey also and make excellent sweets and chocolate is likewise treated in the land south of the Rio Grande.

Lately these confections have appeared among the Mexican population of Southern California. An old Mexican relates the legend handed down from the time of the Toltecs in Mexico. Cactus candy was first made and used as a part of the wedding ceremonies of that race of sun-worshippers.

The Toltecs, who preceded the Aztecs in the beautiful valley of Mexico, believed that in the heart of the visnaga cactus was imprisoned the soul of a beautiful maiden beloved by the Sun-God, the deity of the race which worshipped the sun as did the Aztecs who followed them. The white pulp of the cactus they believed to be symbolical of the purity of the maiden while the thorny exterior was supposed to have been placed there by the Sun-God to protect his lady love.

Upon this strange belief hung the peculiar custom of the Toltec love-making and weddings.

Mexican Legend

When a young man had ascertained that his affections were returned by his innamorata, after first consulting the father and mother, and receiving their consent to pay his addresses, the youth retired to the desert and obtained the finest cactus plant he could find and brought it to the home of his bride-to-be, where he, with bare hands removed the thorns. Next with his teeth he removed the tough outer skin of the cactus. If his courage and desire still remained after these ordeals he removed the white pulp, cutting it into round pieces of a given thickness signifying that there was no end to his love.

Now he boiled the pulp from the minute the sun rose until it was at meridian. When he removed it from the fire and procured cold spring water to chill it from a mountain spring. Next he crystallized it with the honey from wild bees which he had obtained from the forests consuming the afternoon in the process and ending it just as the sun tipped under the horizon.

Then the families of the bride and groom assembled in the twilight, forming a circle around the pair, each holding a stick of the sweet between his lips and the bride took the other end in her mouth. As the candy was finally consumed their lips met with the magic touch which made them man and wife and forever bound them together.

Call It Dulce

The Mexicans call this honied cactus "dulce" and it is a great treat amongst the youngsters at Christmas and on other holidays. It is used in games of the young and although the day is gone, when the mere meeting of his lips along a stick of this honied sweet bound the young in matrimony, still the merry young Mexicans indulge in the game of Visnaga as the legend is called and some use the dulce as the chief game of the evening—but of course mama and papa look on without giving assent to a marriage ceremony such as their ancestors, the Toltecs and Aztecs revered.

Should Be Quarantined

Many physicians believe that anyone who has a bad cold should be completely isolated to prevent other members of the family and associates from contracting the disease, as colds are about as catching as measles. One thing sure—the sooner one rids himself of a cold, the less the danger, and you will look a good while before you find a better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to aid you in curing a cold.—Adv.

Thirty-five hundred tons of the 1918 crop of white beans have been sold by the California Bean Growers' association to the European Relief commission.

Do you want skin-health?

If you are suffering from eczema or some similar distressing, embarrassing skin eruption, why don't you get rid of it by using Resinol Ointment? Unless the trouble is due to some serious internal disorder, it quickly yields to Resinol, and in most cases is easily healed by it. The first application usually stops itching and makes the skin feel cool and comfortable. We recommend it with the utmost confidence because of its harmless ingredients. Aided by Resinol Soap it acts even more quickly.

Wild was forced to make 107 pounds in order to fight under the Wisconsin boxing commission rules, which prevent more than a ten-pound difference in weight between fighters of that class.

The British flyweight champion stated the excess weight slowed him up.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—With surprise, incredulity and disappointment to the point of alarm, London heard the news of the "downfall" of their other title idol, Jimmy Wilde. This was doubly hard, coming so soon after the knockout of Joe Beekun.

Still feeling that the little flyweight champion represents the last word in fighting machinery, Britishers were inclined to attribute his defeat by Jack Sharkey in Milwaukee Saturday night to be the result of a decision caused by anti-British sentiment.

After their fight here with the champion, in which they claimed they were given a "bum decision," Put Moore and J. E. Lynch said, "Wait till we get him in America." Londoners think that this decision was the first blow taken by America in defense of her bantams.

Commenting on the fight, the Telegram said, "Sharkey is not in the same class with Wilde. It is hard to believe that he could even hold his own. We wonder if the decision was not influenced by feeling against Wilde."

WALNUT COVER CROPS

Next year we hope to have some genuine Hairy Vetch for cover crop seed. It is vastly superior to the Oregon or Purple Vetch, and we firmly believe will prove of great value to California orchardists.

This season the best cover crop seed available, in our opinion, is Scarified Melilotus seed. We still have a limited stock, and will be pleased to show same and explain its many merits to interested parties.

Excellent results last year were attained through plantings made in late February. Drop in and look at our seed.

School Census at Orange Shows 1600 Minors In 746 Families

ORANGE, Dec. 8.—There are 1600 minors of school age in the Orange school district, according to school census just completed by Alfred Leech.

Of these, 1361 are under instruction in public schools, 132 are being instructed in private schools, and 107 are not in school.

The census shows that 734 of the minors are boys and 806 are girls. All but one are of the white race. Fifty-one are foreigners.

The census shows five blind or crippled children in the district.

There are 746 families represented in the census.

Farewell for Mrs. Waldorf

Mrs. O. A. Waldorf and daughter, Mrs. Mabel Kressen, who will leave tomorrow for their new home at Ingewood Gardens, were given a farewell party by the ladies of the Presbyterian church. The women with whom Mrs. Waldorf and her daughter have worked for the past several years, brought their fancy work and a social afternoon was enjoyed. Cake and ice cream were served. Mrs. D. P. Crawford, on behalf of the deaconesses of the church, one of whom is Mrs. Waldorf, presented her with two beautiful pictures. Mrs. M. L. Pearson, representing the Ladies' Aid, as a parting gift presented Mrs. Waldorf with a cameo pin.

Birthday Anniversary

La Vern W. Brown of Olive with the assistance of his friends celebrated his fifteenth birthday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Brown. Games and music during the evening and refreshments of brick ice cream, assorted cakes, candy and apples and the presence of the girls made it a real party. The large birthday cake had fifteen candles and as the guests blew them out, one by one, birthday wishes were made for the host. Those present were Catherine Wilson, Katherine Johnson, Polly Todd, Thelma Mann, Francis Hallman, Eva and Alva Spencer, Clarke Walsworth, Raymond Terry, Keller Watson, Ben Jones, Fred Hobbs and Donald Brown.

Entertained Christmas Club

The Christmas Club was entertained at the home of Mrs. D. C. Pixley, with the regular Christmas meeting. It was an afternoon of fancy work and visiting, at the close of which Mrs. Pixley served refreshments to the following: Mrs. W. G. Oram, Mrs. Tryphena Wright and Mrs. John Fletcher, the guests of the club, and the members, Mrs. Charles Baker, Mrs. E. J. Brown, Mrs. W. F. Bradshaw, Mrs. J. T. Pitt, Mrs. J. L. McCampbell, Mrs. Elizabeth Bralsher, Mrs. A. L. Hitchcock, Mrs. Clarence Walker and Miss Flora Yeoman. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. A. B. Tiffany on the second of January.

FOLLOWS ORDERS

Tom Callahan got a job on the section working for a railroad. The superintendent told him to go along the line looking for washouts. "And don't be as long winded in your next report as you have been in the past," said the superintendent. "Just report the condition of the road bed as you find it, and don't use a lot of needless words that are not to the point. Write a business letter, not a love letter."

Tom proceeded on his tour of inspection, and when he reached the river, he wrote this report to the superintendent:

"Sir: Where the railroad was the river is."—Everybody's Magazine.

TRAVEL WESTWARD IS CUT BY COAL ORDER

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 8.—Approximately 45 extra sections of the California Limited of the Santa Fe and Los Angeles Limited of the Salt Lake, due here between December 11 and Christmas, will not run under drastic reduction in passenger service ordered because of shortage of fuel in the East.

The order eliminates all extra sections of trains out of Chicago and goes into effect on Monday. The last trains with the extra sections will therefore arrive here on December 10th.

The Santa Fe Limited was scheduled to run in three sections nearly every day from now until Christmas and the Salt Lake Limited in at least two sections.

A portion of the travel which faces the reduction in train service will be cared for by increasing the single section that is run, but this cannot care for any considerable portion of the people clamoring for reservations.

FIRE MAKES WATERS OF CANYON LIKE INK

PASADENA, Dec. 8.—Instead of the white waters which are usually dashed upon the rocks by the fast flow of the San Gabriel canyon, the water coming down that stream now more nearly resembles ink, according to Chief Ranger T. W. Sloan of this district, who returned today from an inspection trip to the canyon.

The ink, almost tar-like appearance of the storm water is due to the washing out of ashes from the mountain areas burned out last September.

CANDY MEN TO MEET

PASADENA, Dec. 8.—Candy manufacturers of the entire west are to gather in this city January 20, 21 and 22 for the annual convention of the Western Candy Manufacturers' Association. The Hotel Green has been selected as convention headquarters.

The greatest touring season in the history of California has just been closed, according to D. R. Watkins, secretary-manager of the California State Automobile association.

PASADENA, Dec. 8.—Orders to sell all old railroad ties, except those of redwood, to relieve the fuel shortage have been received by the local offices of the Santa Fe railroad, and similar orders are in effect all along the lines. The ties are offered at 15 cents each.

REDLANDS, Dec. 8.—The first week of orange shipments for the new season from Redlands netted three cars as against thirty-eight cars for the corresponding week last season. The rain stopped shipments during the week, but it is planned to send out little fruit for the Christmas market this year because of the large amount of North California and Florida fruit still to go out.

LONG BEACH, Dec. 8.—Dangers to harbor district interests from the flood waters will practically be eliminated with the completion of the preliminary flood control channel, 120 feet wide, from Anaheim street to the ocean. The United Dredging Company has one dredger plowing its way toward Seventh street and the other cutting southward through Third street.

PASADENA, Dec. 8.—Petitions are to be put in circulation today in Pasadena by women representing the Women's Civic League and the Shakespeare Club, asking Governor Stephens to call an extra session of the legislature to enact measures which will afford relief from the high cost of living.

LONG BEACH, Dec. 8.—Arrangements have been completed for the launching at 10:56 o'clock next Wednesday morning of the first steel motorship built for the California & Mexico Steamship Company, a $250,000 craft constructed by the Long Beach Shipbuilding Company. Capt. V. S. Terry will command the new freighter, which is to ply between the local harbor district and Mazatlan, Mexico.

WHITTIER, Dec. 8.—Whittier lodge of Master Masons has chosen J. C. Nanny to become Worshipful Master for the coming year. The Senior Warden will be W. A. Jones, with Dr. E. A. Daniels as Junior Warden. J. H. Quinn was retained as treasurer, having held the office for several years. Alonzo Jones will be secretary, while A. J. West was elected as one of the three trustees.

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 8.—The center of interest at March Field just now is a German Fokker, the favorite type of scout and pursuit plane employed by the Huns. The craft was received direct from the government docks at Hoboken, N. J., being one of the first of the enemy planes to reach this part of the United States. It is equipped with a six cylinder Mercedes motor and will be used for training work.

HEMET, Dec. 8.—As a result of the development of the world war, Hemet is to have a new industry, a factory for the cracking of asphalt pits and the utilizing of them in the dye industry.

PORTERVILLE, Dec. 8.—In a race with bad weather, which may later hamper picking or result in damage to the crop orange growers of this section are storing thousands of boxes of fruit until such time as the packing houses here can handle it. Delayed by the lack of cars and the shortage of shock, the marketing is already some weeks behind normal.

WHY MEN MARRY

An editor sent out circular letters to a large number of married men, and asked them why they married. Here are some of the answers:

"Because I did not have the experience I have now."

"That's what I've been trying for eleven years to find out."

"I married to get even with my mother, but never have."

"I have yearned for company. Now we have it all the time."

"I thought it would be cheaper than a breach of promise suit."

"Because Sarah told me that five other men had proposed to her."

"That's the same fool question my friends ask me."

"I wanted a companion of the opposite sex. She is still opposite."

"The old man was going to give me his foot, so I took his daughter's hand."

"Because I asked her to have me and she said she would; I think she got me."

"Because I thought she was one among a thousand; now I think she is a thousand among one."

"I was lonely and melancholy and wanted some one to make me lively. She makes it lively, all right."

The federal government through the forest service is now engaged on the Klamath River route.

A RAW, SORE THROAT

rases Quickly When You Apply a Little Musterole.

And Musterole won't blister like the old-fashioned mustard plaster. Just spread it on with your fingers. It penetrates to the sore spots with a gentle tingle, loosens the congestion and draws out the soreness and pain. Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. It is fine for quick relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds on the chest. Nothing like Musterole for croupy children. Keep it handy for instant use. 50c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

British Engineers Start Upon Schemes For Its Rehabilitation

Now that modern crusaders have taken over the Holy Land, British engineers are making plans for the restoration of that fertile region to something like its ancient productivity. Once, as described by the early Israelites, it flowed with milk and honey; today it is little better than a desert.

That largely was the fault of King Solomon, who, with all his wisdom, seems to have woefully lacked foresight about some things—particularly forest conservation. At his instance the hills of Lebanon were divested of their forest cover, eighty thousand woodcutters with 3,300 overseers being employed for the purpose, and the pursuit of a like policy by his successors in other districts finally cut off the water supply. The streams, instead of flowing regularly throughout the year, now fling occasional torrents down the mountain sides and then dry up. The problem now is to establish on a great scale irrigation works, storing the flood waters in reservoirs created by damming their natural outlets among the hills, for distribution throughout the lowlands in season of drought. This work will be supplemented by replanting the mountain sides with trees.

THREE ADDRESSES GIVEN AT CHURCH

Three addresses were given at the Sunday evening service of the First Presbyterian church yesterday morning in which Christian citizenship was the general theme of discussion. The three speakers were J. A. Cranston, city superintendent of schools, L. A. West, district attorney of Orange county and Rev. J. A. Stevenson, pastor of the church.

In his address, Superintendent Cranston declared that education and character should be developed together. He pointed out that an educated person without character is far more dangerous to the community than is the ignorant man without character.

That the ten commandments are the foundation of law and order was the declaration of District Attorney West.

"The citizen of tomorrow is to be a citizen with education and Christian character," declared Rev. Stevenson. The pastor emphasized the importance of education of the youth of today and the importance of seeing that the youth is brought up with a proper understanding of the opportunities offered in Christian life.

The River Jordan is the principal affluent of the Dead sea, which is one of the most beautiful lakes in the world.

A Norwegian engineer, Albert H. North, an authority on water power development, advocates the construction of a tunnel thirty-seven miles long to carry water from the Mediterranean to the lower end of the Jordan valley, and thence through pipes to the level of the Dead sea, where a turbine plant would convert the power into electricity.

The cost of the proposed tunnel is estimated at forty million dollars. Other works, including power plant, factories, etc., would bring the total up to sixty million.
